LEWINSOHN NOT STRANGER HERE

Senior Member of New Oklahoma City Firm Traveled in State Years Ago.

BUYS HUB CLOTHING STORE

A new business firm has been acquired for Oklahoma City through the sale of the Hub Clothing company to H. Lewinsohn and Sons, of Lincoln, Nebraska, which was consummated yesterday. The store was closed today and probably will remain closed tomorrow while an invoice of the stock is being taken in connection with the sale.

The new firm will occupy the present location at 108 West Main street for the present, but hopes to secure a larger room with a fifty-foot front and enlarge the stock later. H. Lewinsohn, the senior member of the firm is not a stranger to Oklahoma, as he traveled through old Oklahoma territory twenty years ago, representing the wholesale firms of Hirsch-Wickwire and Company of Chicago and Schloss Brothers and Company of Baltimore and New York. When a traveling salesman in this country Mr. Lewinsohn fixed his eye on Oklahoma City as a coming metropolis and has several times since then considered locating here.

The new firm now owns a store at Parsons, Kan., conducted by Milton Lewinsohn, a son of H. Lewinsohn, which is operated under the name of the Bing Clothing company. Mr. Lewinsohn has been engaged in the men's clothing and furnishing business for thirty years and he says that his motive has always been to conduct his business so as to secure the confidence of his customers.

He owns a beautiful $20,000 residence in Lincoln, Neb., which he will trade for a home in Oklahoma City of equal value if the opportunity presents itself and will move his family here as soon as he can secure a suitable residence. Mr. Lewinsohn's wife is a sister of I. B. Levy of this city and a cousin of Harry and James Gerson of Oklahoma City. Mr. Lewinsohn today expressed the greatest confidence in the future growth and prosperity of Oklahoma City and expressed the belief that the population will reach at least 100,000 in a few years.

A. M. Goldstand and Mrs. S. C. Heyman, widow of the late Seymour Heyman, who sold the business of the Hub Clothing company to Lewinsohn and Sons, announce that they will retain their residence in Oklahoma City. Mr. Goldstand said today that he considers Oklahoma City the best town in the southwest and that he will remain here and help boost the city and probably engage in some other line of business in the spring.

FAMOUS AMERICAN NAVAL AUTHOR DIES SUDDENLY

Admiral A. T. Mahan, who for many years has had an international reputation as a writer on naval subjects, died suddenly in Washington. His work as naval commander did not bring him much prominence, but his book "The Influence of Sea Power Upon History" made him known over the world. The admiral was born Sept. 27, 1840, at West Point, where his father was a professor and an expert on mathematical and engineering subjects. He was appointed to Annapolis from New York in 1860, and he graduated in time to serve through the Civil War.

His books on naval strategy, history, and his opinions on international politics made him influential throughout Europe, and his criticisms of the British navy policy were closely studied by the admiralty.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP FOR THE ORPHANS

BY ONE OF THE HELPERS.

The Christmas tide is on and all hearts are stirred with good feeling. All are busy remembering friends and thoughts of selfishness are in the background. At this time we are more given to remembering those who are less fortunate than ourselves, to giving charity.

Charity is good fellowship, charity springs from a grateful heart, grateful that they have been so well favored. There is nothing stingy, cold or offensive about charity. It is an expression of a true heart of love that longs to and endeavors to even things up.

At Christmas time above all others we are more given to expressing this rare gift, remembering how the great father showed his good fellowship by giving the greatest gift of his love—that of his son. This moves us to the giving not only of our pennies and those things which we can well spare, but of giving larger expressions of love, something that will carry with it some sacrifice, that will not be pity, but real good fellowship to those whose lot in life has been harder than our own, and in whose pathway few roses have been strewn.

Pity plucks a flower and tosses it to the one less fortunate, while charity takes a pot of the rarest kind and plants it in the garden of the other, there to blossom and bloom, whose fragrance will be known and felt after the Christmas-tide has come and gone.

Great is the demand upon our charity at this time. We are excited to sympathy, and God grant to real fellowship, as we think of the war-stricken people with their indescribable sorrow and crying need.

May the great father so touch the heart of civilization that the great gift of perpetual peace may be given the world, then nations will neither prepare for nor learn war any more.

and good fellowship—charity—will be enjoyed among the nations.

But while we are thus stirred by these far-away people, let us not forget those right at our door to whom good fellowship should be shown. Among these are the children of the Oklahoma orphanage, situated only five miles west of the city.

Here orphan children are being cared for, loved and educated. While you are educating your boy and girl, let good fellowship be given these little ones who are left without father or mother and without money to battle against fearful odds, to gain an education and fit themselves for good citizenship in the future.

The home has done good work in the past and of the many who have been helped from childhood to manhood and womanhood, all are going forth as factors in this great commonwealth. Some have won places of honor in their chosen field. They in turn are showing their good fellowship by helping the good work along. One of the girls, now a teacher, prompted by love, sends a monthly offering.

One hundred and fifty of the city school children are showing their love and good fellowship by giving "Oklahoma" to the Overhouser on December 14, by which means they hope to raise a good sum for a Christmas token to these children of the Oklahoma orphanage. Come and enjoy this wonderful treat. They have been trained by Mrs. C. R. Kendrick, a graduate in dramatic art, who is a guarantee of a rare performance. In the long ago the fairies wonderfully helped this orphan laundress, Cinderella, but now there are no fairies.

Did we say no fairies? No! The spirit of fairyland, good fellowship and love is abroad in our midst.

What we mean to say is, how many of you will let the good fairy spirit take possession of you and help make the offering as large as possible? Help the school children to be a real good fairy to these orphans by attending "Cinderella" in the Overhouser Monday evening, December 14.

WEDNESDAY.

Only 10 days till Christmas. Torp Stebbins says at there hovee it doant look that they would be much doing this year, they having so many children in the family now they aint hardly room enuff along the life of the mantle piece to hang three stockings.

Excitement in School.

They was quite a little excitement today when Fatty Bellows at last achieved his ambition, which was to get the fat he would get stuck in the place between his desk & the sets in front of him. Fatty has been trying to see if he could get threw that place for a long time, & has been every disappointed to find he could. But he hadnt tried it lately & when he done so to-day on his way to get a drink of water, he stuck fine. Miss Palmer calm to his assistance but the moor she pushed & pulled the moor Fatty stuck, & finally she had to send for Blinky Hammond. Blinky sed they was only two ways, chop Fatty up & talk him out in sections or drop down the desk. Miss Palmer sed she didnt like to have that done, as the desk was a new one, blit speahul for Fatty, & Fatty objected to being cut up in pieces, so she sed she guessed she would have to leave him there unless he could make a good shove & get out. Fatty sed he couldnt, but just then ressed calm on & Lile Grimes opened her lunch box. At the site of a peace of marbel calk which Fatty is evry fond of, he gav a heave & calf loose, but in the operation he ripped most of the buttons off himself. He sed he didnt care, though, anything would of been better than stinking in there till he starved to death.

Bel Haynes' Dictionary.

Bel Haynes, who started to rite a dictionary some time ago & stopped, has took it up agen, he thinking of some good words. Hear is his latest: SCHOOL: Something like a jail, only they are not anny bars at the windows.

VACASHON: A time given school boys to forget there unhappiness.

TREACHER: A laidy which not having anny little boys of her own, gets even with others.

HISTRY: About a lot of doid peepul nobody ever meats.

Andy Is Very Quear.

Andy Anderson says the best time you get a likking, loot at the funny way Miss Palmer's curls on the rite side of her ore go up & down, kinder weagly. Andy may be able to notice things like that, but the only thing any other feller is able to notice when he is getting a likking is the way the rattan goes up & down, say we!
